

Caught your limit? Need a change of scenery?
Come play a round of golf on this scenic 9 hole Stanley Thompson gem!

The Kenogamisis Golf Club is situated along the picturesque shores of Kenogamisis Lake in Geraldton, Ontario, Canada. Geraldton is located within the Municipality of Greenstone only 270 kilometres northeast of Thunder Bay. This community features a golf club designed by preeminent Canadian golf course architect Stanley Thompson in 1937.

The Kenogamisis Golf Course measures approximately 6,648 yards from the back tees, but caters to golfers of all skill levels by offering three additional sets of tees. The course is open to the public; tee times are required.

The Kenogamisis Golf Club has a proshop equipped with balls, tees, hats etc and also has clubs and power carts for rent. The restaurant within the clubhouse offers a scenic view of the ninth hole while featuring selections for both golfers and the public. You can also relax after your round with friends while enjoying refreshments from the fully equipped bar.
